FIGHTING FOR WAREHOUSE

Every Effort Being Made to Keep Indian Supply House Here.

POINTS OUT LOGICAL REASONS

Commercial Club Cites Numerous Reasons Why Omaha is an Economical Location for Headquarters.

Omaha is still fighting to be retained by the government as the location for one of the three Indian warehouses. There are five in the United States. It has been decided there shall be but three in the future. Congressman Lohack, after visiting in Omaha a few weeks rushed back to Washington when the decision to cut down to three was made. At Washington he and Senator Hitchcock will have a fight on their hands to show that Omaha should be logically retained as the location for one of the three warehouses.

Logical Location.

The Commercial Club Journal this week points out some of the reasons why Omaha is a logical location as follows:

Every well informed student of the situation realizes that Omaha is the best located of the five Indian warehouses now being operated. Omaha is 200 miles nearer to 75 per cent of the Indian schools and agencies than any other warehouse. Freight can be shipped from Omaha to these various points much more cheaply from Omaha than from any other warehouse. Officials in Washington know as a matter of record that the United States army has been buying supplies in Omaha at a lower cost per ration than anywhere else. It is obvious that if ordinary business principles are followed and true economy considered, Omaha will be first choice as a permanent supply department. If Omaha does not secure the appointment it would seem that the decision must be based on something other than business considerations. At the time when the abolition of the entire Indian warehouse system was considered before the senate and house, Omaha advanced the most effective arguments and put up the strongest fight for the retention of the system. It is needless to say that everything in the power of this club and the Nebraska Association in Washington is now being done to secure a place for Omaha as one of the three permanent warehouses.

HOTEL KEEPER GIVES STRANGER AMOUNT LOST

Jens Karl Laursen, a young Dane, who has been in America only a short time and can hardly speak a word of English, reported to the Young Men's Christian association and to Chief of Police Henry W. Dunn that he had been deprived of $5 of his money when he placed it "for safe keeping" in the office of a Thirteenth street hotel. When Chief Dunn and General Secretary E. F. Denison of the association took the matter up with the hotel, the proprietor denied Laursen's allegations, but paid the amount lost, "in order to protect the reputation of the hotel," he explained. The Dane was given a job as janitor at the association building, so he is now quite happy again.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dirt and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin, irritating and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The powder dissolves the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method. Advertisement.
